Worshipful Masters Message

Brethren,

I would first like to welcome you all to a new year at Laurel Lodge and hope that everyone had a wonderful Christmas/Holiday. I'm looking forward to a great year working with the officers and the brethren of the lodge. I have many new ideas that I want to share with you and many traditions I want to see continued.

It is unusual today to see young Masons in their twenties with responsible leadership positions within the craft. The skills necessary to be a leader takes time to develop.

I believe we are all born with certain leadership skills, but those skills must be honed over years of practice. It would be foolish to argue that experience is not important to a leader, especially in an organization that that values tradition as much as we do. Tradition for a new member is not something that they may understand, but must be taught. Young Brothers just entering the Fraternity, don't always understand the importance of tradition to older members, so proper education is required. Light is something, in Masonry we all strive for and is the responsibility of everyone to pass along. We need to develop better communication skills in the Lodge so all the Brothers have the needed information when asked to vote on such issues. That must be a priority for all of us.

Young men bring with them new ideas but as with any new idea, careful consideration must be observed before implementing them. Not all new ideas are good but that should not stop us from considering them. A tradition, after all, always starts with a new idea that is allowed to develop and grow with time. Younger members will feel more of a bond within the fraternity, when they are able to bring their views to the Lodge. It takes everyone to maintain this organization and allow it to become a well-oiled machine. During this time, we are all developing our skills to be better leaders. Input from everyone is expected.

We can all learn from each other how to work for the common goal which is the future of our Lodge. Many things have changed over the years, and now more than ever, we must keep a constant vigilance on our Lodge and Fraternity.

We need to not only bring in new members, but learn how to keep the ones we now have. We will be working on that goal and many others through this year and into the future, but no man can do this alone. It will take all of us working together to achieve these tasks. When asked to get involved with projects, the need for all Brothers to step up will be required. It may sometimes be difficult but, the end result will be worth it. We will all work toward the future of the Lodge, its continued growth and prosperity. Together, we will make this happen. Thank you all, in advance, for all your assistance and support in this extremely important endeavor.

> Sincerely and Fraternally, William Roche Worshipful Master
